

Foreign Policy Analysis and Crisis Management. CPD8

“Disasters do not respect national boundaries; they have international ramifications for nations, societies and populations; raising not just foreign policy challenges of when and how to help, and in what form, but also in determining what communities can expect from ‘international’ crisis management.”

Lee Miles. Professor Crisis & Disaster Management

Providing world class training & expert technical assistance.

Our Disaster Management professional courses draw upon a wide range of disciplines; from ‘hard’ to ‘soft’ sciences. They focus around complex, political, social and economic activities and help students to reflect upon the governance of a country, community or business.

Lee Miles, Professor Crisis & Disaster Management

Lee is a distinguished scholar having been appointed to his first professorial position in 2006. His research agendas in crisis and disaster management bring together international; and national subject matter, experts in foreign policy, travel and tourism, public health resilience and crisis simulations and leadership.

Foreign Policy Analysis and Crisis Management.

CPD8

Course Overview

This course will provide you with a systematic understanding of the foreign policy and diplomatic dimensions of crisis and disaster management. You will evaluate key issues and challenges shaping the formation and implementation of foreign policy in relation to disaster management and examine ways of enhancing resilience. The course also takes into account humanitarian assistance, blame management and governing after crisis.

Course Content

- Foreign policy analysis and international crisis management.
- Explaining foreign policy.
- Humanitarian assistance.
- Training and entrepreneurial resilience.
- Foreign policy entrepreneurship.
- Political communication.
- Media management.
- Blame management.
- Governing after crisis.

Key Facts

This course is delivered over 5 days. Students who successfully complete this course can:

- Register for our online learning platform for additional training.
- Register to complete the necessary assessment to gain MSc credits.*

\ Students will be required to have English Language Skills (IELTS level 6) and evidence of a suitable First Degree or recognised equivalent.*

Available courses:

CPD1: Developing Policies & Plans

CPD2: Management of Natural Disasters

CPD3: Management of Technological, Social and Intentional Disasters

CPD4: Management of Wider Stakeholders

CPD5: Management of External Assistance

CPD6: Management of Communication & Learning

CPD7: Public Health Resilience & Response

CPD8: Foreign Policy Analysis & Crisis Management

CPD9: Disaster Management for Business Professionals

Disaster Management Centre

Disaster Management Centre, Bournemouth University
Talbot Campus, Fern Barrow, Wallisdown, Poole, Dorset, BH12 5BB
Tel: +44 (0)1202 961260 Email: budmc@bournemouth.ac.uk
www.bournemouth.ac.uk/budmc